with the terms of the international postal treaty. The conference on the part of the senate proposed to waive all discussion as to the question of privilege at issue between the two houses, and to consider the bill with senate amendment, but the house conferees declined to agree to the proposition for the reason that they do not in their opinion possess the power under the resolution of the house to consider the bill or amendment without an enlargement thereof.

The senate then went into executive session. When the doors were reopened the senate extended the session until 6 o'clock Wednesday evening.

The bill to amend laws relating to internal revenue was received from the house, and having been read by title was laid over under the rules till tomorrow, at the instance of Senator Sargent.

The discussion upon the amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill for the payment of southern mail contractors for service rendered prior to the war was continued at some length. Senator Spencer submitted an amendment providing that any part of the appropriation of $375,000 appropriated for the purpose by the act of March 3, 1877, not required for the payment of said mail contractors, shall be used to enable the postmaster general to contract for mail steamship service between New York and Rio Janeiro and New Orleans and Rio Janeiro, once a month from each port, and to pay for such services thirty dollars a mile. Ruled out upon a point of order that it was a general legislation.

An amendment directing the secretary of the treasury to pay southern mail contractors for services rendered prior to the war was finally agreed to with 14 yeas providing the claimants shall give bond for the return of the money to the United States in case it shall be subsequently determined that such claims were paid by the confederate states, and also that any claimant who shall receive pay from the United States, after having been paid by the confederate states, shall be liable to the United States for the amount so received.

FOREIGN.

PORTLAND, Me., June 18. The 45th annual state convention met to-day and organized with Chas W. Larabee, of Bath, chairman. After the appointment of the usual committees a recess was taken.

LONDON, June 18. Berlin correspondents send very contradictory accounts of the doings in the congress. Some assert that Lord Salisbury proposed the admission of Greece, supporting his proposal in a speech which occupied the entire sitting. Other correspondents declare the admission of Greece was not discussed at all, but postponed till Wednesday. It is stated that when Count Andrassy introduced the question of the boundaries of Bulgaria he made an earnest speech urging the division of European Turkey into districts on the basis of nationalities, thus rendering reform and regeneration possible without severing their connection with the Porte.

The Times' correspondents say the representatives of England moved for the admission of Greece. Representatives of France supported the motion but debate was adjourned till the next sitting. It is probable Greece will be admitted in a purely consultative position or to a limited number of sittings devoted to Greek interests.

Whichever way be the vote of the majority of states it is not believed that the bill will undergo any change by force of a vote of Bulgaria. If it is not adopted, it will be a great loss to the cause of the Balkan states.

The Cincinnati Commercial says "that Gen. Butler is going gunning on his own account."

Even the Inter-Ocean, as stalwart as it is, cannot endure Butler any longer. It thinks his treatment of witnesses is "bestial."

In describing Butler's conduct, while cross-examining General Smith, a correspondent of the Commercial speaks of his "inartistic," "brow-beating," "coarse abominableness," "bullying," "gross insults," etc., and even then hardly does the Essex statesman justice.

The European Congress has done but little, Lord Beaconsfield has made out a program which is unpopular to France and Germany, and may be to Italy and Austria. It is thought that England's Premier will outshine Bismarck in the present congress.

In the preface of her new book the "Sweet Singer of Michigan" gives "Thanks to the editors that has spoken in favor of my writings; may they ever be successful in all their undertakings. The editors have spoken in a generous manner have went beyond reason."

A Pennsylvania paper says, "The Philadelphia Times is a sort of double back edition, containing the same news as the other, but with a different arrangement of the material." It is a very good thing for the Times to have a double back edition, as it will enable it to keep its readers up to date.

At a recent meeting of the Michigan Republican Association, a resolution was adopted, which was as follows: "Resolved, That we view with apprehension the spread of socialism and the growth of sentiments as embodied and proclaimed in platforms, resolutions, publications, and speeches of the so-called labor party, and the various socialistic, communistic organizations and their advocates throughout the land, which if adopted as the policy of the government, must bring disaster and ruin to business, discredit and dishonor upon the nation, and tend in a high degree to subvert many of those principles which are regarded as fundamental to the structure and the support of free government; and the Republican party will meet all these dangers and dangers with the most prompt, vigorous, uncompromising opposition."

This resolution has the backing of no compromise with, but vigorous opposition to, the national greenback party and the various socialistic organizations. This should be the battle cry of the west. There is danger in compromise, but none in opposition.

One of the planks in the Michigan republican platform is, "Resolved, That we view with apprehension the spread of socialism and the growth of sentiments as embodied and proclaimed in platforms, resolutions, publications, and speeches of the so-called labor party, and the various socialistic, communistic organizations and their advocates throughout the land, which if adopted as the policy of the government, must bring disaster and ruin to business, discredit and dishonor upon the nation, and tend in a high degree to subvert many of those principles which are regarded as fundamental to the structure and the support of free government; and the Republican party will meet all these dangers and dangers with the most prompt, vigorous, uncompromising opposition."

We denounce the action in every way binding upon all its members to fulfill a public obligation is a stain upon both public and private honor. We are, that the debts of the nation shall be paid with the same fairness and integrity with which an honest man seeks to pay his individual debts."

We heartily endorse the above declaration, but regret that it should be necessary to make it. The moral position taken in the question is not so high but that all parties are called to it.

But the republican party by making such a declaration, which in ordinary times would be doing nothing creditable, is considered to have taken a very high moral position.

CONKING AND PRESIDENT HAYES.

General Grosvenor, who was speaker of the Ohio house of representatives while Mr. Hayes was governor, had a spicy interview with a reporter of the Cincinnati Commercial directly after the meeting of the state convention. Among other subjects which were discussed, was the cause of the present attitude of Senator Conkling toward President Hayes. General Grosvenor explains it by the following dialogue which occurred between himself and Gov. Hayes in February, 1877: "I say, Mr. Hayes, I am a republican. Governor, what do you think of the Washington rumors about the Conkling case?" "Mr. Conkling will resign," said the republican politician, "and I will resign." "I will resign," said the republican politician, "and I will resign." "I will resign," said the republican politician, "and I will resign."

Governor Hayes replied: "I have had a proposition from New York, coming from a gentleman in Albany, to the effect that the resignation of Conkling could be counteracted and his countenance and assistance secured provided that I would, in making up a cabinet, ignore the claims of Mr. Morton and deny his requests. This proposition was coupled with an intimation that if I failed to ignore and snub Mr. Morton, I could count upon the opposition of Mr. Conkling and his influence in deciding the vote of the electoral college against me. I was given plainly to understand that if I did not comply with this demand of Conkling I must expect the hostility of that gentleman."

I asked Governor Hayes if he complied with the demand, and he answered: "I would rather never be president than to commit myself to a position hostile to Mr. Morton. I do not think it proper for me to commit myself now in any direction, and the last act of my life would be to place myself in a position inimical to Morton. Never has the republican outlook been so dark or gloomy in Ohio that Mr. Morton has not come to our aid and assistance, and with words of cheer and comfort. He has always been in the darkest days our relief and comfort, and the man in our party who would, for purely private reasons, antagonize Mr. Morton and endeavor to injure his influence, would be an ingrate and unworthy of the confidence of the republican party of the west."

The above conversation will generally be received as genuine, because it is perfectly consistent with Conkling's character. Most of his public acts have been governed with a view to control public patronage. In the winter Senator Conkling displayed much energy in securing the defeat of a provision to some party office like that of appraiser in the custom house, while, as representative of the great commercial interests of New York, he was silent all through the debate on the silver bill and during the discussion of other bills of great importance to commerce. It was a well-known fact that Conkling desired the re-election of the New York legislature, and he was not likely to do this by supporting a bill which would have the effect of securing the re-election of the legislature.

Conkling's attitude toward the silver bill was a very good example of his character. He was not likely to do this by supporting a bill which would have the effect of securing the re-election of the legislature.

vessels. But we have taken the opposite course, so that only about 7 per cent. of the American goods exported last year was carried in American vessels. The penalty for breaking this law is confiscation.

If an American vessel is sold to foreign parties it cannot be bought back again and become an American vessel. An American vessel ceases to be such if it is sold to foreign parties.

If an American vessel is shipwrecked on a foreign coast and is there repaired, it must pay import duties to the United States equal to one half of the value of the repairs, in order to continue to be registered as an American vessel.

An American bought a wrecked European vessel on our coast and expended a sum equal to three-fourths of the vessel's original value before the wreck and then was not allowed to register on the ground that it was one-fourth foreign, or, in other words, an amount equal to the entire value of the vessel must be spent in repair in order to have it righted.

We have only mentioned a few of the unjust restrictions which have killed our commerce. We ask, is it strange in view of these prohibitions that only seven per cent of American commerce is carried in American vessels?

David A. Wells some months ago called the attention of congress to these laws. Petition after petition came from the merchants of New York, and still no action has been taken by congress. We only ask that American shipping may have a fair chance to compete with foreign vessels for American commerce.

Official Paper of the City of Colorado Springs.

O. H. Pack has bought up of the fiveement houses on north Nevada Avenue, the one next to Dr. Culver's.

Prof. McPherson and wife, of Tabor College, Iowa, and Miss Town and, a returned missionary, will be here next week to spend the summer in Colorado Springs and vicinity.

A telegram received from the summit of Pike's Peak yesterday morning, stated that G. M. Walker of Manitou, and E. R. Wheeler of Plymouth, Indiana, arrived there the night before, having walked all the way.

Lara, 22, of St. Louis, Mo., to inform the party who wrote to the Alamosa News in regard to the F. and M. July excursion to Alamosa from this place, that she will be glad to furnish a hall to dance in and a supper on reasonable terms.

C. F. Moise died at Manitou on Monday last of consumption. He has been spending a few months there hoping to benefit his health but without success. His wife who has been with him throughout his illness, proceeded east with his remains yesterday.

It has been exceedingly enjoyable of late to watch the shadow of the sun on the walls of the various tents which have been pitched about the city and made by their respective inmates, but it might be well to suggest to such persons to "douse the glim" before retiring.

The house on the ranch known as "Harb," thirteen miles north, was burned not long since through the carelessness of the owner. The house at Templeton's Gap is now the only house on the road from Colorado Springs to Canon, a distance of eighteen miles.

Dr. C. R. B. is in the city. He is a fine and interesting man. He is a native of England and has been in the city for some time. He is a fine and interesting man. He is a native of England and has been in the city for some time.

There was quite a bold attempt made on the D. & R. G. R. way. It seems that a man who was unable to obtain a ticket at Boulder, a short distance from the city, attempted to pass on the way. He was caught at the station and taken to the police. He was a native of England and has been in the city for some time.

Mr. Moore, the lapidary, has received several letters from New York parties in regard to his sapphires. Tiffany & Co. of New York has written him that the stone was a sapphire and was worth from $200 to $250 per carat. As the stone is 38 carats in weight its value must be between $750 and $900. CRAWFORD E. W. Cooper, B. S. Johnson, Janesville, Wis.; J. W. Mitchell and wife, St. Louis; Mrs. T. E. Tabor and two daughters, Lawrence, Kas.; O. H. Titman, Washington; Mr. Hallgarten and son, New York; T. E. Bowman, Boston; T. G. Woodman, Cincinnati; J. B. Grant, Leadville; Miss J. N. Smith, Miss A. N. Smith, Pueblo.

COLORADO SPRINGS HOTEL. T. H. Lindsley, ranch; A. U. Lewis, Chicago; Prof. E. C. Taylor, Mrs. E. C. Taylor, Miss Florence Taylor, B. E. Lovejoy, W. W. Wright, New York.

NATIONAL. Jas. B. Orman, S. Pueblo; Henry Harris, Chicago; B. Hamberger, Denver; E. B. Copps, ranch; H. S. Doris, Denver, Colo.; Wm. Dean, Fountain.

BEEHIVE HOUSE.—W. J. Mosley, H. P. Marston and wife, Denver; Lewis Mitchell, J. W. Cooper, Chicago; Mrs. H. D. Bacin, Miss Bacin, Mrs. Frank Soule, children and nurse, A. A. Johnson, St. Louis; S. S. Dea Thayer, Louisville, Ky.

Henry Harris, of Chicago, is at the National.

J. S. Newkirk, of the divide, called on us yesterday.

A. U. Lewis, of the firm of Lewis, Tuttle & Co., wool buyers, is at the Springs Hotel.

Prof. E. C. Taylor, wife and daughter, and B. E. Lovejoy, are registered at the Springs Hotel.

O. H. Titman, of the signal service corps, returned yesterday to the city and is stopping at the Crawford.

J. B. Grant, of Leadville, is at the Crawford. He is presently interested in the reduction works at Leadville.

Mrs. T. E. Tabor and two daughters, of Lawrence, Kansas, are guests at the Crawford. They will make this city their home for the present.

Rev. J. W. Shank, of Attle, Washington county, New York, made us a pleasant call last evening. He is making a pleasure trip through Colorado and will remain but a few days.

Rev. Wm. Salter, Congregational pastor at Burlington, Iowa, will spend his summer vacation in this vicinity. His wife and son have been in Colorado Springs since January.

Rev. L. H. Platt, a Congregational minister of Kansas, is on his way across the plains in his own conveyance. He comes to recreate in Colorado this summer. One of the families of his church is coming with him to locate at Colorado Springs.

Prof. Judson Smith and Prof. Albert Wright, of Oberlin College, Ohio, will probably spend their summer vacation in this vicinity. Rev. R. T. Cross' article in the Oberlin Review on "Camping in the Rocky Mountains," stirred them up to visit Colorado.

J. S. Dickerson, of Newark, N. J., has been in town and will stop here. He has been troubled for several years with consumption, but a few days' residence in this health-giving climate has greatly improved his condition.

The vicinity of the state penitentiary at Canon City was the scene of much excitement on Monday morning, occasioned by the escape of a convict named John A. Klaven, who had been in the prison for some time.

It is stated that the convict, John A. Klaven, escaped from the penitentiary at Canon City on Monday morning. He was seen at the city of Colorado Springs on Tuesday morning. He was a native of England and has been in the city for some time.

At a meeting of the Christian Temperance Union held in the Wanless block on Monday evening, Mr. A. D. Freeman was appointed a member of the committee in place of Miss F. J. Merritt. The committee appointed to select a room for use as a public reading room reported several rooms which could be secured. The report was adopted and the committee continued to report at next meeting. The report of Mr. A. D. Freeman, canvassing agent, was then received. He reported monthly subscriptions to be thirty-three dollars; quarterly subscriptions, fifty-seven dollars; to be paid on opening of rooms, eight dollars and twenty-five cents; cash collected, seventy-seven dollars and forty-one cents, making a total of $175.66. Mr. Freeman was instructed to continue his labors in this direction. Articles of incorporation were agreed upon and it was further agreed that the name of the incorporation be "The Christian Temperance Union of Colorado Springs."

The following gentlemen were elected trustees, to hold their office until April 1st, 1879: A. H. Corman, L. E. Sherman, J. H. Woodgate, John Lennox, Dr. T. A. Benbow, Rev. R. C. Bristol and O. T. Barker. The meeting soon after adjourned.

Mr. Thos. Wanless, who drove Col. Bacon's horse on the afternoon that it died, wishes us to state that the horse was not killed by over-driving but by an over teed after being taken up from grass. Mr. Wanless does not like the reflection which has been cast upon him by his having driven the horse, therefore, makes this statement.

At the City hall this evening, Prof. C. E. Taylor will commence a series of three entertainments consisting of sleight of hand performances, refined illusions, and an entertainment given by the Royal Italian Marionette troupe. Prof. Taylor visited our city some two years ago, at which time he played to large houses and with great success, a repetition of which we predict for him at this time. One hundred useful and valuable presents will be given away at the close of each entertainment, all of which are purchased from the merchants of this city. No one should fail to see this wonderful man.

Lecture.

Rev. J. W. Shank, late missionary to South America, will deliver his highly entertaining lecture on the Argentine Republic and the people of South America, at the M. E. church on Friday evening, June 21st. Mr. Shank comes to the city having the highest credentials and testimonials which go to prove that the lecture is one of great interest. The admission will be but twenty-five cents, and we hope for the lecturer a large attendance.

New Telephone Company.

Articles of incorporation have been filed by the San Juan Telephone company. Its object is to erect and operate a line of line of telephone between Lake City, Ouray and Silverton, and such other adjacent towns as may be deemed judicious. The capital stock is placed at $2000 divided into shares of $10. The principal office will be kept at Lake City. Directors for the first year are Lewis Crooke, John H. Mangham, M. K. Rich, J. Simmons, F. W. Pitkin, J. L. Pennington, and Daniel M. Dana. Denver Democrat.

Business Locals.

Five thousand dollars worth of clothing to be sold at cost, comprising suits, coats, pants and vests. I wish to close them out as I am going out of the clothing trade. I guarantee a saving of 15 to 20 per cent. to those who buy of me. Stock all new this spring. D. J. MARTIN.

Call and examine the new goods just received by Chas. Stearns, Brick Block, Main Street, Colorado Springs.

Men's Boots at $1.00 a pair, at D. W. Robbins.

The trail to the summit of Pike's Peak is now open and in good condition for travel.

Call and see the live Coyotes at the Colorado Springs Museum, W. B. Norton, Proprietor.

Men's Summer Coats 75 cents; Boys' Summer Coats 50 cents; Men's and Boys' Paper Collars 5 cents per box, at D. W. Robbins.

Buy your wall-paper of Tribe & Jeffery, and Kenyon, a practical paper-hanger, will hang it at the following reduced rates: Blank, 12 1/2 cents per roll; common figured, 15 cents per roll; satin, 18 cents per roll; gilt, 25 cents per roll. Orders left with Tribe & Jeffery, or postal cards, will receive prompt attention.

A. J. KENYON.

First-class work guaranteed. A few elegant Rocky Mountain gems for ring and pin settings, at the Colorado Springs Museum, Tejon street.

For the best accommodations in Colorado Springs stop at the National Hotel.

Men's Half Hose 40 cents a dozen pairs; Heavy Brown Mixed 3 prs. for 25 cents; Good Leather-Stayed Overalls 75 cents, at D. W. Robbins.

One of the best hotels in Colorado is the Crawford House, at Colorado Springs.

Fresh Fish every day at Yeager's.

Good, All-Wool Suits $8.50; Good, Cotton Suits $5.50, at D. W. Robbins.

Buy the Cheyenne Canon Ice. It is free of coal dust and sparks.

Men's Wool Hats 50 cents; Boys' Wool hats 35 cents; Men's Summer Caps 30 cents, at D. W. Robbins.

A fine lot of cigars at the Colorado Springs, at D. W. Robbins.

A pair of pants made in five hours at Stearns' Tailoring, 111 N. 1st St., Colorado Springs.

Wire Screen Doors. For several months from this time the wire screen doors will be made at a low price. No one who has failed to make the acquaintance of the Colorado fly has the true conception of how much pleasure a space as a fly's body. Experience has demonstrated that the only way to circumvent the little beast is to have screens placed in front of doors and windows. Mr. S. F. Stearns is making such screens in a very substantial manner, and will be pleased to take your order. His shop is on rear of lot opposite the post office on Tejon street.

Notice. When you order St. Louis, Milwaukee, or any other Beer of good reputation, be that you get it, or you may pay a good price for an article which may possibly be as good, but which we know can be bought at a much less rate as bottled by the El Paso County Brewing Company, C. STOCKBRIDGE, President.

READ THIS.

ST. LOUIS, June 11, 1878.

Chas. Stockbridge, esq., Colorado Springs, Colo.

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your favor of the 5th inst. In reply I desire to say that at present Mr. Hermann, of Manitou, cannot at present bottle my beer, he having received from me only a few barrels of beer about a year ago, the last shipment being September, 1877. If Mr. Hermann at the label, a copy of which you sent me, so his bottles, he is simply imposing on the public with the evident purpose to make an inferior article saleable by means of using the label of a celebrated brand. Please accept thanks for your kind attention shown for the protection of my interests. I remain, very respectfully, Wm. J. LEMP.

NOTICE.

I would respectfully inform the public that I have this day disposed of my business to Mr. Ains. Brown.

Thanking my many friends and the public for the very liberal patronage and support heretofore extended me, I would most respectfully urge a continuance of the same for my successor.

W. C. BRADBURY.

Colorado Springs, Colo., June 15th, 1878.

Having this day purchased the stock of Paints, Oils, Varnishes, Glass, Artists' Materials, Painters' Supplies and Paper Hangings, from W. C. Bradbury, I would inform the public that it is my intention to carry a stock of above line of goods second to none in the state, and hope that by low prices, courtesy to all, and close attention to the business, to merit a liberal share of patronage.

In connection with the above, I have secured the services of several first-class painters and paper-hangers, in which line any work entrusted to me will receive special attention, guaranteed first-class in every particular, and at prices as low as the lowest for good work.

AINS. BROWN.
